As only $10,000 of the pu chase price had been paid by the Inspector, Mr. McCall said, the fact was that on an investment of $10,000 the Inspector had made $30,000 in one real estate transaction in four months. Inspector Mc-Laughlin also sold to D. M. Koehler a week ago property at No. 38 East Seventy-fifth-st. for $34,000, and in that transaction, Mr. McCall said, the Inspector made $2,000. during the summer months with guests. Five years ago Mr. Moody opened this fine building as a training-school. If one had been specially erected it could not have been better adapted for the purposes to which it is put from October to April. The aim of this school from the first has been to give an allround training to young women who wished to fit themselves for practical Christian usefulness in the churches of which they are members, in mission fields at home and abroad, and in Christian Associations, Christian Endeavor and Sunday-school work. Miss Bird has an able corps of practical assist-Miss Bird has an able corps of practical and ants; usefulness is the keyword of the training-givers. Therefore it was not unusual to see several of the graduates at the reception given last evening wearing dresses which they had cut, fitted and made themselves under the directions of their teacher in dressmaking, but experts could not tell which girls were thus dressed, nor was any one surprised to-day, when at the luncheon served to the guests after the graduating exercises the young women passed around chicken, doughtants, pies and other articles of food prepared by their own hands. The church or mission that gets one of these workers will find her able to clothe the naked and feed the hungry as well as to minister to their spiritual needs. Dressmaking, plain sewing and cooking are taught in such a way that the students are fitted to teach these branches of work or to be of great help in their homes or in their mission fields.

But the Bible is the main text of the training-school, and the aim of the instructors is to teach the students how to use it. The course includes an outline of the fundamental truths of the Bible the analysis of books and passages, the study of character, the preparation of readings and suggestions for personal work. Lectures are given on the Pentateuch and the life of Christ, Prominence is not given to methods of work, as the students do not not given to methods of work, as the students do not have the opportunities for practical work that abound in the city. The time usuafly occupied in such work is filled here with work in the industrial department. Similcient instruction in drawing is given to enable students to illustrate Bible truths in Sunday-school or junior endeavor work. Several interesting "chalk talks" were given at the reception last evening. Vocal music, elocation and physical culture are also taught. The seventy-one students enrolled this year have come from ten States and represented seven denominations. One of the graduates will go to Mr. Moody's fourth school, the Bible Institute, in Chicago, others will enter at once upon evangelistic work, two will become pastors helpers, one will spend her life in a foreign missionary field, others will return to their homes to carry on religious work in their own churches, and others still will continue their preparations for service here or elsewhere. During the year the students have aided in evangelistic services in various towns within a radius of eighty miles, with great success. Since the school was opened in 1890 there have been 364 students enrolled, and the results achieved have abundantly proved the far-sightedness of its founder.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody are in Texas this month, and they start next week for Mexico. The evangelist will return home in May, and has plans for a busy summer with eminent speakers at his conferences. In his absence his work here is carried on with great success by his son. William Moody, and his nephew, Ambert G. Moody. have the opportunities for practical work that

COMMENCEMENT OF THE NORTHFIELD TRAINING SCHOOL—MR. MOODY IN TEXAS, BUT HIS INFLUENCE PELT IN EVERY INSTITUTION.

East Northfield, Mass., March 28 (Special)—The Northfield Conferences of June, July and August are known around the world to-day, but one must see this charming town in winter to have an adequate flee of the great educational work which D.

L. Moody is carrying on. At the seminary, near his own home, building after building has been erected to accommodate the large number of girls destrous of having the thorough training which is here secured. At Mount Hermon, across the Connecticut River, Mr. Moody has had the same experience with the hundred of boys seeking an education. Under the principaliship of Miss Evelyn. S.
Hall and Henry F. Culler, respectively, these intestitutions have reached a high standard of excellence, and scores of young people are rejected annually from lack of room and money.

The third Northfield institution, much younger than the other two, which held its commencement in the Congregational Church this afternoon, already exerts an influence in this part of New-England which would satisfy most men. ## MR. DRAYTON FILES HIS ANSWER.

MRS. DRAYTON APPARENTLY HAS THE BEST OF THE PRELIMINARY STRUGGLE FOR DIVORCE WITH HONOR.

Trenton, N. J., March 23 There was filed with the clerk of the Chancery Court this afternoon the answer of J. Coleman brayton to the petition prosented by his wife a few weeks ago, praying that she be granted a divorce. The answer now pletes the case, so far as the preliminaries are con-cerned. Mr. Drayton sued his wife for divorce, and in addition to her answer to his suit she brings a counter-suit, to which he answers. The causes must now be tried on their merits. In the suit brought by Mr. Drayton he accuses his wife of being unfaithful to her marriage vows, and names Hailett Alsop Borrowe as the respondent with the wife. He specifies the times and places when and where the alleged illegal and unlawful acts were committed. Mrs. Drayton's reply is a complete denial of the allegations of her husband. Descriton, brought about by Mr. Drayton's unjust suspicions of her marital fidelity, is the ground on which Mrs. Drayton asks release from her mar-

The answer to-day was prepared and filed by Alva Clark, of Somerville, who appears as counsel for Mr. Drayton in the original action brought by him. The reply is a rather long document. Mrs. Drayton's sait is not a cross-bill in the usual sense of the term, but is a separate and independent action, and as such must be tried independently and separately from the suit brought by the husband. Thus, while the suits are akin and one is meant to effect the other, they are brought in such a manner that the allegations brought forward by Mrs. Drayton to support her claim for a di-vorce are not materially affected by the allegations of her husband. It would appear that Mrs. Drayton's counsel had forestalled Mr. Drayton, and the best position is now held by Mrs. Drayton. Had the suit by Mrs. Drayton been brought as an answer to the suit of the husband, the issues could and would have been joined, the two cases being tried together. Then the Vice-Chancellor before whom the case would come would decide which of the two contestants was entitled to the decree. Instead of this Mrs. Drayton's suit must now be tried first and independently of that brought by Mr. Drayton.

decree. Its call of the appropriate that brought by Mr. Drayton. It is understood now that Mr. Drayton will not prevent his wife obtaining the divorce, and will enter no defence except so much as is necessary to protect honser and his reputation as a husband and a father. It is known, too, that if Mrs. Drayton can obtain the devree on the ground of desertion, after Mr. Drayton is done defending his character he will make no objections, provided and here the only possible hitch will occur; he gets the custody of all of the children, forever and absolutely. He will not compromise on this point.

If Mrs. Drayton fails to obtain a decree on the ground chosen by her to secure it Mr. Drayton will proceed at once to press his suit to trial. There seems to be a decire on both sides to prevent the facts and alleged facts becoming a matter of public record, Both Alva Clark and R. V. Lindsbury, the lawyers, have agreed to settle the case, if possible, through Mrs. Drayton's suit. Mr. Ivayton's an swer is a denial of the allegations of his wife so far as they affect him personally outside of the act of desertion.

The injunction papers stated that Johnson had signed a contract with the Stearns people a short time ago to ride the Stearns wheel and no other between May 1 and October 1, 1895. It further stated that he had tiated with other firms, and states that the reason wants to ride in France is because he is a professional now, and there ig no professional riding in this country. He must ride in France or not at all. He is willing to ride for Stearns in France if they will pay him enough, but they only offer him 5,000, while he asks $3,000. The contract stipulated that he should receive $400 a month for his services from May to October.

Work is being pushed rapidly on the track of the Queens County Jockey Club, which is likely to be

D. J. Campan, of Detroit, is enthusiastic about the racing meeting to be held upon the beautiful and well-equipped grounds of the Detroit Trotting Track, Mr. Campau is widely known as a liberal, sagacious, keen-witted man, both on the turf and off it. Everything in any way appertaining to racing or trotting that is under the supervision of Mr. Campau is always conducted on a high plane of excellence. One of his favorite remarks is: "Any sport or pastime which cannot be enjoyed by the wives and daughters of a man's family is unworthy of a man's presence." Consequently, high-class sport predominates at Detroit. As the Western Turf Congress permits foreign books, and is not to the standard of excellence required by the ockey Club, Mr. Campau intends to leave no stone unturned to secure a Jockey Club license at the Ogden Lyndhurst, who represents the united race-tracks of cannota, is due to arrive in this city to-day. It is likely that Mr. Lyndhurst will open negotiations to secure Jockey Club licenses for all the tracks in the cannotan creat.

In the West a furf cyclone is in process of formation, with the storm centre located at the Hawthorne track. Edward Corrigan and his methods have caused much squirming and withing among the Western racing officials. By shrewd manazement he secured the control of the Western Turt Congress, and he is now the dictator of racing in the West. His latest action is to recoke the order for the meeting of the Western Turf Congress in St. Louis and to have the meeting called at Memphis, as his stable is quartered at the Memphis track. A revolt is looked for next week, as the popularity of the Jockey Club has increased to such an extent that the respectable Western racing clubs are anxious to race under its hanners. Should the Gray bill become a law in this state, there is no dount that the leading Western racing clubs and out that the leading Western racing clubs and brook and the Memphis as a member of the Jockey Club.

ANTHRACITE COAL PRESIDENTS IN CON-

MANY RUMORS AS TO WHAT WAS DISCUSSED, The anthracite coal presidents decided upon nothing definite at the meeting in this city yesterday, and the whole question of allotments was referred back to the Committee of Five appointed at the last meeting. This committee will report again at a meeting subject to the call of the chairman, Mr. Harris, president of the Reading. The preliminary report of the committee was discussed yesterday, ut there were evidently too many difficulties in he way of drawing up a satisfactory agreement.

There was a report current after the meeting that there had been a disagreement on the question of allotments, but none of the president who were seen after the meeting would verify this, and those who would talk said that the situation was making progress toward a satisfactory settlement. In Wall Street, where so much depends upon a proper adjustment of the coal difficulties, the bears of speculation have been pronounced in their statements that no satisfactory outcome would result from the present efforts of the presidents to settle the differ-ences. New-York, Susquehanna and Western, Leto want bigger percentages than the other com-panies will countenance, and then there is a report that Luckawanna would like to absorb the Sus-quehanna and that some move is on foot to change the control of Realing, and in that way settle just what percentage Reading should have. There are various other reports about the anthracite situa-tion, some calculated to depress and others to adcance the stock of the coalers, and advantage is for speculative manipulations of the coal stocks.

agreement. Those who were present at the meeting were Mr. Roberts and Mr. Joyce, of the Pennsylvania, Mr. Gliphant and Mr. Torrey, of the Delaware and Hudson, Mr. Stoan and Mr. Holden, of the Delaware and Lackawanna, Mr. Maxwell and Mr. Baker, of the Jersey Central, Mr. Harris and Mr. Henderson, of the Reading; Mr. Borg, of the New-York, Sisquehanna and Western, Mr. Childs, of the Ontario and Western, Mr. Wilbur and Mr. Sayre, of the Lehigh Valley, Mr. Cochrane, of the Erie, and Mr. Walter, of the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schayikill.

NINE COLORADO ROADS ACCUSED.

St. Louis, March 28.-George J. Kindall, of Den ver. Col., an fron manufacturer, yesterday filed in-formation here and cited all the Western railways entering here to appear before the Interstate Com-merce Commission to answer to a charge of dis-crimination in rates. Mr. Kindall's attorney alleges hat finished and raw iron and brass is carried to certain firms in mountain towns below schedule rates, while his client does not receive the cut rates. Nine railways are included in the citation.

RECEIVER EGAN NOT ALARMED.

St. Paul, Minn., March 28.-John M. Egan last evening saw a dispatch stating that he would be killed if he took the receivership of the Oregon Short Line Railway. Mr. Egan said he had heard nothing whatever of the story, and knew of no reason why his acceptance of the receivership should be followed by results so sangularay. At any rate, the report would not deter him from acepting.

A DENIAL FROM PENNSYLVANIA OFFICIALS. Chicago, March 28.-The Pennsylvania officials in this city deny that their road is in any way re-sponsible for the recent threatened collapse of the hicago and Ohio River Passenger Association. The "Monon's" charges of issuing curtailed mileage books, and thereby causing videspread demoraliza-tion of rates in the territory between Chicago and Onto points, are declared by them to be without foundation. Chicago, March 28.-Officers of the Burlington are much discouraged over the last financial statement, issued to-day. Instead of showing a surplus from which dividends might be declared, the report shows a large deficit. For the two months ending February 28 the deficit is $313,882, and for February alone it is $205.619. This shows that on the Burlington, at least, business is growing worse instead of better. The mail and miscellaneous department is the only one that shows an increase $8.513.
